

HARROW

One of the first things Tim started selling in his dad's antiques store was old leather suitcases and trunks. The leather on the suitcases had taken a beautiful sheen which would come from the greases and waxes that built up over time, due to constant handling. And they'd collect scratches with every journey, which would add uniqueness and character to each piece. The Timothy Oulton trunk collection takes the nostalgic travel trunk of yesteryear and transforms it into an innovative range of coffee tables and side tables for the modern home. Available in vintage-inspired leathers or contemporary finishes of steel, Oxidised brass and cowhide.
