ROCK CRYSTAL RAIN CHANDELIER

A retro modern form brings an ancient material to life in the Rock Crystal Rain chandelier. Hand-polished pieces of rock crystal float amid a slender metal frame in a juxtaposition of industrial style and the natural world. Each crystal is individually lit by an LED, giving each one a magical and mystical aura.

Rock crystal is millions of years old and revered by many ancient cultures. The Australian Aborigines believed it was frozen rain, a source of life, while the Japanese believed it to be the breath of white dragon, a representation of perfection.

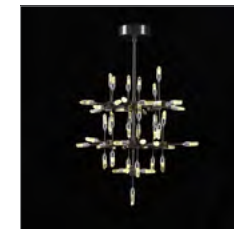

Sourced raw from the earth, every piece of rock crystal in the Timothy Oulton collection has been selected by hand, cut and polished using simple tools and the touch of the craftsman's hand. Combining the earthy properties of permanence and omnipresence with an ethereal and captivating beauty, rock crystal connects us both with the earth, and also with millennia of its history.
